Here is a copy of a completed "Theory of knowledge - Planning and progress form" so you can see one. Your teacher will give you a PDF copy of this form, which is editable by you and also by your teacher.

You won't need to worry as much about providing lots and lots of details in this form (as you can see below). Whereas, for your presentation form (called the TK/PPD) you WILL need to provide quite a lot of details –because the presentation form is actually used to assess the quality of your work.

This form for the essay (the TK/PPF) mostly serves as some additional information your external essay grader can look at if they would like to know more about you and the process you used in your essay. In most cases it will only be used if there are questions about the authenticity of your work.

Anyway, here is a sample you can use for guidance:
